

Winter is coming

As we approach winter in the southern hemisphere, we appreciate the warm days that we are still experiencing. The cooler months are however considered the best time for a safari. The watering holes are drying up and we are starting to see more animals gathering around the main water sources. Elephants have been around in abundance and we have had a few even come visit us in camp!

Be sure to enter our competition where you can stand a chance of winning a 2 night safari experience for 6 people, valued at R90 000! See below for more information.

We are still keeping very busy during lockdown to ensure the lodge is ready for our guests' return. We are experimenting with new drinks ideas, Nellys has been working hard on her exquisite handcrafted table mats and we have been keeping our curio shop shoes out of reach of the hyenas - all in all, we are spending some great time bonding as the Makumu family.

Stay positive, safe and healthy!

Handmade with Love

Our fabulous cook, Nellys, is not only amazing in the kitchen, she is also highly skilled at handcrafting these beautiful table mats, using recycled crisp paper for the beautiful colours.

With much time and love spent on the creation of this authentic African table décor, we are delighted to make them available for sale in our gift shop.

Eco Children Food Parcels

As the lockdown continues and with hunger a very real and ongoing challenge in our community, Eco Children has continued to distribute food parcels to families in need. Their focus has been on families whose children would normally receive their only meal of the day at school but are now no longer able to do so.

To date, Eco Children has issued 555 food parcels thanks to the incredible support and donations from all the wonderful donors across the globe! The support has been invaluable in making this happen and we are delighted to support such a fantastic and important initiative.

If you would like to donate, please get in touch with Corné at corne@ecochildren.co.za and please consider forwarding this mail to anyone who may be willing to contribute to this cause.

Save our Animals

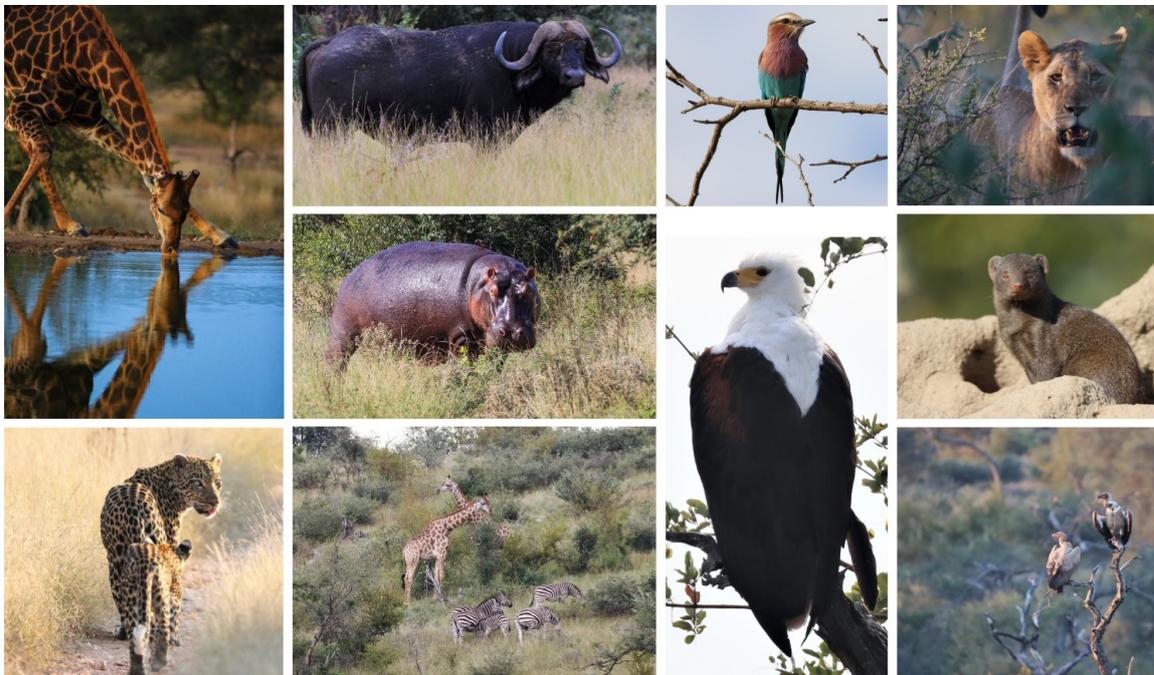

Thanks to the quick reaction from our Managers, Morné Hamlyn & Ruan Ferreira, this lioness' life was saved. The two men spotted her badly wounded at the pan near the lodge on Saturday and noticed she had been ripped up by a snare and was in very bad shape.

Our team responded quickly and immediately called Klaserie HQ who informed the local vet. The vet arrived shortly after the call with his very professional team and stitched her wounds together.

A big thank you to Dr. Rodgers & team for their amazing work saving this big cat's life and for answering all of our questions!

Despite the fact that it was an incredible experience, we hope to not see this kind of injury - caused by human beings - ever again!

Wildlife Update

We have been very fortunate with amazing sightings around the lodge, from lion and leopard to hippo, buffalo, zebra and giraffe.

Birdlife has also been prolific, with lilac-breasted rollers, vultures, fish eagles and various others being sighted often.

Our favourite sighting this month has been the elephants! They have been around in their hundreds and we have been spoiled to spot them often. We have especially enjoyed seeing them around iThumbela, our photographic bunker, leading to some amazing images of these gentle giants.
